The world's leading online food safety community!

The world's leading online food safety community!

International Food Safety & Quality Network (IFSQN) was founded in 2003 to provide food safety practitioners with a platform to share knowledge and information to enable the effective implementation, operation and continual improvement of food safety management systems.

With new regulations such as FSMA and the ever increasing requirement for businesses to become certified to GFSI benchmarked standards such as BRC, SQF and FFSC 22000 the importance of IFSQN has never been greater.

The future will continue to bring fresh challenges for food safety practitioners and IFSQN strives to be the go-to place for information and support.

Corporate Sponsor Safefood 360°

IFSQN provides us with the opportunity to engage directly with our target buyers in a relaxed knowledge-sharing environment. It is an essential component of our overall marketing plan and we look forward to our continued association for many years to come.
